

2010.11.2 Banciao District Prosecutors Office Press Release

Cash Bribery On Vote Cracked Down Once Again By Banciao District Prosecutors Office

After receiving information indicating that a head of neighborhood in Banciao City was suspected of delivering NTD 500 for each vote to some voters as bribes on behalf of a candidate electing for city councilor yesterday, the prosecutor led Banciao Police Precinct, Taipei County Police Bureau to search the relevant places with search warrants earlier today. The suspected offender was also summoned simultaneously. Based on his significant suspicion and prosecutor's ongoing pursuit of the remaining accomplices, the prosecutor asked the court to order a pretrial detention of the suspect.

“Information Center for Bribery on Vote Investigation”, which receives and gathers all the information regarding bribery on vote 24 hours a day and seven days a week, has been established by Banciao District Prosecutors Office (BDPO) on October 29th. BDPO has been combating bribery strongly, and will lift the combat to an even higher standard from now on. Prosecutors call upon all candidates and their supporters not to defy the law, so that we can have a cleaner and brighter environment for this election.
